Detroit, Mich., May 26.-With Dolly Gray pitching one of the prettlest games seen in the Champions' park this year, and the Washington club tendering him the finest sort of support, Cantillon's men finished their series with the Tigers by clutching the final game, 3 to 1.

The game was won on its merits, too. Washington outhit the Champions, ran the bases with better judgment, and got the sort of hits that help a runner when they were needed. The Tigers' few drives were scattered and short. Their one run was the result of Gray's only base on balls and the lone hit injected into the proceedings by Tyrus -Cobb, champion batsman, who has been breaking up the other games of the series by his batting and base running.

Nationals Score First.

The visitors had expected to face kil-Han, and had taken their batting practice with Altrock in the box. They were somewhat surprised to see Suggs, but welcomed the North Carolinian gladly, nevertheless, to the duel of the colt twirlers. Cantillon's men started their

TOURNEY ON TO-DAY

Middle Atlantic Golfers Compete Over Columbia Links.

RECORD LIST OF ENTRIES St. Louis at New York.

Prominent Players Representing Various Clubs in This Section of the Country Turn Out in Large Numbers for Annual Championship Tourney-Woodruff and Carusi.

This morning at 8 o'clock Benjamin Woodruff and E. D. Carusi, both of the Columbia Club, of this city, will start the ball rolling in the annual tournament of the Middle Atlantic Golf Association, which will continue on the links of the Columbia Club, in Brightwood avenue, for the next few days.

The tournament has attracted wide-spread interest among the golfers of the various clubs in this section of the country, and the entry list is said to be a record-breaker. A'l of the local cracks. Mattern, p... representing Co dia, Chevy Chase, and and out-of-town Bannockburn . vie will take part, players of T and some hot comp tition is expected. Among the visiting golfers is J. R. Bagby, one of the strongest players of the Hampton Golf and Country Club.

Mr. Bagby has figured prominently in tournaments held in this city in past years, and he is looked upon as a strong contender for honors in the first sixteen. Other visiting golfers prominent in the association and who are expected to show with the best are W. P. Wood, of the Lakeside Country Club. R. Wier. Among the visiting golfers is J. R.
